TERMS OF REFERENCE FOR THE PRIX NICOLE RAYMOND AWARD

---

As amended February 26, 2022

1. NATURE OF THE AWARD

The Prix Nicole Raymond Award was created in memory of the late Professor Nicole Raymond, of the Université de Moncton, and her contributions to academic life through teaching, research activities and involvement in professional associations.

The Federation bestows this Award to a person, group of persons or organization in recognition of a distinguished contribution to the advancement of the labour movement, or to the cause and/or public profile of post-secondary education.

The Award is customarily presented at the Annual General Meeting of the Federation.

2. SELECTION PROCEDURES

A call for nominations shall be published at least once each year through the FNBFA's channels of communication with member associations, and through points of contact with other unions in the region. All nominations should be directed to Chair of the Selection Committee and should be received by the Federation by November 30. A selection committee comprised of three members of the Board of Directors will study the nominations and present its recommendations at the next Board meeting of the Federation.

Only one Award shall be given in any academic year. The Award, however, shall not necessarily be given annually; and the decision whether or not to grant the Award in any academic year shall be in the sole discretion of the Board of the Federation.

Originally envisioned as a parchment, instead the Award has variously taken the form of unique pieces of pottery and of pewter, fashioned by New Brunswick artisans, because of procurement and cost considerations since it was first granted (to Dr. Allan Sharp in 1987).
